CALL FOR PARTICIPANTS

LEONARDO LIFE LONG LEARNING PROJECT. EU-MEET-HAIR. "EURO HAIR MEETING" TOWARDS FUTURE HAIRDRESSING TRAINING IN A EUROPEAN FRAMEWORK

EU -MEET-HAIR- project description.

Project aims

- Promote better understanding of different cultures to encourage a more European approach to hair dressing training. Find converging trends and to adopt a common strategy in the evolution of hairdresser training with the scope of sharing good practices with the rest of our European partners

Participants:

- A group of professionals tutors in the hair dressing sector, trainers-(including part-time trainers and salon owners who train students, apprentices or their own employees).

What they will do:

- Attend a weeks' training in Milan in three different establishments so that they can then share and cross over their knowledge between them and to others in this profession.

Needs of the participants addressed.

- Continuous professional development(CPD)
- The trainers need to hone and enhance their pedagogical (teaching) skills to be able pass on this knowledge to others. They will also be updating their Entrepreneurial skills; improving customer care and help their students enhance their chances of employment in Europe.

Language

- The project also encourages linguistic exchange since the courses are in Italian and translated into English & Maltese. A list of the main technical words used in hairdressing in both languages (Italian & English) will be provided

What will the project consist : Tutors /part-time trainers will experience new ways and alternative ways of teaching through

- A) Attend etnos academy for a work shop on cut and colour which includes communication and best practices in salon management.
- B) visit Acconciatura Milano'-one of the most prestigious hairdressing academies in Milan, to see new and alternative ways of teaching.
- C) Visit the training establishment of lisap laboratories where they will experience hands on practice technical services.

Where it will be held: The above training program will take place in MILANO in three different establishments.
